

Rev. England to Speak of Case For Religious Education Sunday

"The Case for Religious Education" will be the topic of the sermon Sunday morning at the First Christian Church according to the pastor, Rev. Cecil J. England.

In discussing the subject of his sermon this week, the Rev. Mr. England said:

"One of the tragedies of our contemporary culture has been the breaking up of life into small compartments."

He said each one has practically become independent of the other—business is business, and it has severed its relation from moral responsibility when it has become expedient to do so.

ENTITIES EXIST

Like-wise, education has become an entity in itself, he said. So have government and other phases of our society.

"It is the contention of the liberal tradition in Protestantism that religious education or religious instruction are not essentially a part of the many segments of our modern culture," according to the Rev. Mr. England.

It must of necessity be cognizant that the human mind and spirit is not separated into compartments each isolated from the other. Rather life is a whole made up of many parts to be sure, but so thoroughly interdependent that each supplements toward the fuller development and growth of all the parts as a unit.

PRIMARY CONCERN

Religious Education therefore has a primary concern with Christian Concepts but only in so far as the teaching becomes a means to an end, namely the complete development of the human mind and spirit. This enterprise needs the full cooperation of parents in the home, the school, church, and the community.

Basically American Democracy got its start in such an intellectual atmosphere. Our Democracy will survive only and all conflicts if we the people have the moral and spiritual fortitude that is necessary to bring life back into focus with the religious emphasis of the Christian Faith, he said.

Methodists Hear Pastor Relate Convention Ideas

Returning from the Western Jurisdictional Convocation on Evangelism held in San Francisco, Rev. Clarence E. Miller of the First Methodist Church preached last Sunday on "The Evangelistic Task of the Church."

This Sunday, he will speak on the "Importance of Christian Education in Evangelism," taking notes from the conference as his text.

The meeting in San Francisco last week was one of a number of its kind held in various parts of the United States and participated in by Methodist church leaders from the ten Western states. The meetings are being held in preparation for a proposed evangelistic advance which will be started in the fall of 1951.

"This effort is a part of the program of Advance for Christ and His Church of the whole Methodist church in America," the Rev. Mr. Miller said this week.

Next Sunday will also be promotion day in the Methodist church school, he said. Promotion exercises will be held in the auditorium of the church at 10 a.m. with Superintendent, Lester Foster in charge.

At the 11 a.m. service, teachers and officers of the church school will be formally installed by the pastor.

Worship Service Slated For McMaster Park Hall

Nondenominational worship services have been scheduled for each Sunday at the McMaster Recreation hall at 174th street and Yukon by the North Torrance Community church.

Sunday school will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the worship service to follow at 11 a.m. Rev. Rowland Robinson of Gardena will conduct the worship.

GOING BACK . . . Louis Zamperini, shown in picture as a Navigator-Captain in the U. S. Army Air Force upon his return from a Jap prison camp in October, 1945, is due to return to Japan on invitation of General Douglas MacArthur. This trip he will preach on behalf of Youth for Christ. Pictured with Zamperini is his mother, Mrs. Anthony Zamperini, 2928 Gramercy avenue, and Sergeant Gordon DuMont, who gave the famous athlete a ring credited with saving his life.

Zamperini to Carry Christ's Work to Religion Starved Japan

Invited by General Douglas MacArthur to tour Japan in behalf of Youth for Christ, Louis Zamperini, famous Torrance Olympic Games athlete, will be honored at a luncheon next Monday in the Torrance Woman's Club.

Zamperini, after whom the Torrance Municipal Airport is named, will leave for Japan September 28th, where he will preach Christianity to a religion-starved people—people who are all too close to the dangers of Communism, according to a release from Youth for Christ International and the Pacific Southwest Youth for Christ, sponsors of Zamperini's tour.

To Carry Gospel
The famous headline-maker of World War II will carry the gospel to those who imprisoned him after his capture. He intends to personally visit those in charge of the camps in which he was imprisoned.

Those wishing to attend the luncheon may make reservations by phoning Torrance 3084 between 8 a.m. and noon. Price of the luncheon is $1.25.

REPRESENTED CITY
In 1936 and just graduated from Torrance High School, Zamperini represented the City of Torrance in the Olympic Games in Berlin.

During World War II he is renowned himself by spending 47 days on a life raft before his capture and internment by the Japanese.

Zamperini again hit the headlines last November 7, when he was "converted" in a giant tent revival under the ministry of evangelist Billy Graham. Since that time he has toured the United States and Canada telling of his experiences. Most recently he has been actively engaged in juvenile delinquency work.

We Had 23 Visitors Last Week

During the week of Sept. 10, 23 strangers came to Torrance. No one knew the exact date to expect them but when they arrived they were made welcome.

These strangers came from we know not where, yet they were invited. They might have come from the land of love, where smiles are coins of the realm and that clasp our hearts more securely than bands of vanadium steel.

These new arrivals are Kings and Queens. Their robes are snowy white. Their scepters are glances that lead us to heights of ecstasy. They are strong yet weak. Their parents are living in a land of bliss and will sacrifice anything, everything for their well-being, their new baby.
